

Winning that Job!

Making a lasting impression at Job Interview

They say that the first impression is the most lasting. This is especially true for Job Interviewees, who often only have a matter of moments to project a positive first impression. This workshop explores the Job Interview process and provides strategies for Job Seekers to sell themselves to employers with confidence and style.

Some of the topics we'll cover include:

- ✓ Understand why employers use Job Interviews
- ✓ Understand the importance of projecting an enthusiastic and positive first impression within the initial moments of a Job Interview
- ✓ Identify techniques to project enthusiasm to an employer
- ✓ Understand what different clothing styles project to others and identify personal presentation techniques that will project a positive image to a prospective employer
- ✓ Identify and project body language at the interview and be able to read basic body language being projected by the interviewer

- ✓ Identify different interview techniques used by employer and recruiters (formal, group, behavioural)
- ✓ Use strategies to make the most of different interview situations
